As we finish our time in the United States and prepare to return to work in Tanzania, we wanted to share some of the things which have been happening on both sides of the world over the last few months. All these things bring us great joy!

In February, we wrote to you about a large private Christian school which we will use as our 5th Bible college campus beginning later this year. But when we were scouting the facility last year, we met many of the students and saw there was a great need to help them get adequate uniforms to wear (which is a law in Tanzania). At the same time we were at the school, I received a text from a supporter in the US wanting to do something for children, and their church would match the gift! Thank you Lord! Even though this isn't part of our primary ministry, it was obvious it was His plan to meet this particular need. One month later, the school had enough funds to outfit 300 of the neediest students. Some of them are pictured below.

Ministry is continuing while we are stateside. There have been several women's seminars, in addition to the normal Bible college classes for pastors and church planters (below).

While we were in the US, we had a chance to speak at several churches and attend a pastors' conference. These are times for us to meet new people and possible ministry partners, as well as enjoy time with old friends and co-workers in the faith. Although this keeps us busy traveling around the country, it is a joyous part of our work.

Jim got to play golf with his brothers on his birthday. He also got to play with our son Kyle a few days later.

Privileged to spend a few days with the Executive Director of Intensive Care Ministries, Pastor Dan Finrock (left) and good friend Pastor Joe Harris of a supporting church in Tampa FL.

Picture of the Month

We have a Tanzanian artist who is excellent at sprucing up our classrooms with very large maps for the instructors and students to reference. These are copied from maps you often see in the backs of Bibles, but made truly life sized! Much easier on the eyes! This is Pastor Edward standing beside one.

- Pray for a quick adjustment to the time change and jet lag, as ministry work begins again for us on March 14.
- Pray for all the seminars and college sessions taking place this month, as well as us resuming our work with the ministry for college-bound students.
